Dear Colonel Miller:

Thank you very much for your kind invitation to attend your annual Engineer Day ceremony on 14 June 1963.

The nature of our business is such that it is difficult for me to plan very far into the future; but, barring some unforeseen development, I shall look forward to being with you for this anniversary celebration and to staying on for the informal gathering to follow.

Sincerely,

and indicate my intention to attend provided I am not
and have no interfering flap, etc.

Dear Mr. Lundahl:

On behalf of the Army Map Service (AMS), it is my pleasure to invite you to attend our annual Engineer Day public ceremony beginning at 10:00 A.M. at AMS headquarters, Erskine Hall, Brookmont, Maryland, 14 June 1963.

STAT

The ceremonies, marking the 188th Anniversary of the Corps of Engineers, will feature this year the initiation of construction of the Army Precision Photogrammetric Laboratory and the dedication of Abert Hall, honoring the memory and work of Colonel John James Abert, the outstanding nineteenth century Army Topographical engineer, after whom the new building is named.

The greater part of this program will be conducted on the front lawn of Erskine Hall or, should inclement weather prevail, within the headquarters building. The program will include an address by Lt General Walter K. Wilson, Jr., Chief of Engineers, the presentation of service awards, the ground-breaking, the ceremonial unveiling of a plaque and the observance of "Open House."

Following the ceremony at approximately 11:30 A.M., the distinguished guests will be served refreshments, and it is my hope that you will be able to remain for this informal gathering.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Miller
